Saruni Samburu – Road Directions From Nairobi

N.B. The drive from Nairobi to Saruni Samburu takes approximately 5-6 hours.

- Leave Nairobi using Thika Road, headed North towards Nanyuki on the new "Chinese Highway";
- Keep on the Nyeri Karatina highway and turn right at Marwa Town - 12 kms from Karatina town;
- Head North, out of Nanyuki, via Timau and towards Isiolo, basically staying on the main road;

- From Isiolo keep going North towards Archer's Post;
- At Archer's Post stay on the highway and keep North; do not enter the Samburu National Reserve and do not go through the Archer's Post Gate;
- At exactly 8km after Archer's Post, down on the left-hand side, they will see a sign that reads: Kalama Conservancy/Saruni Camp, leave the main road and go through the Kalama Conservancy Gate;
- The distance between Kalama Gate and Saruni is 12km, follow the main dirt road, keeping the distinctive "Finger Rock" as a reference point;
- Enter Kalama Gate and take the road veering to the right;
- Drive straight down the road and you will soon see a stone signage 'Saruni. Welcome to Saruni Airstrip', with a road off to the right. Pass this and continue straight;
- At the next Junction turn right. There is no sign;
- Continue straight down the main road (following our tractor tracks towards the lodge);
- A seldom used road will form a crossroads with your road. Ignore this and continue straight;
- You will then have to cross a large dry river bed / lugga;
- When you come to another junction with a stone signage 'Saruni. The Loop' continue straight along the main track (veer LEFT);
- You will soon come across a sign saying 'Saruni 2KM' at the next junction. Go straight (veer RIGHT);
- From here, follow the most used road all the way to the lodge which should appear on a rocky hill, in front of you to the left.
