

Saruni Rhino Fact Sheet

Sera Conservancy, Samburu, Kenya

Saruni Rhino is an exclusive and intimate camp located in Kenya's wild North in Sera Community Conservancy, 350,000 hectares of unspoiled wilderness. It is located a half hour's drive from the community-owned & managed Sera Rhino Sanctuary, the first in East Africa where black rhino are tracked on foot.

Saruni Rhino is a 3-banda camp situated along a spectacular dry river bed lined with doum palms in a way that ensures maximum privacy for guests. A banda is a rustic stone cottage with a thatched roof and canvas roll down windows. All bandas have flushing toilets, hot & cold water and natural stone showers.

Guests can enjoy the nearby waterhole visited daily by herds of elephants, impala, kudu, monkeys and much, much more, including the famous sand grouse spectacle. All this can be enjoyed from the comfort of a guest's verandah, the dining and lounge area, the swimming pool or the popular day bed.

You are guided by Samburu warriors who are passionate about their land and their culture, learning first-hand about their fascinating customs and traditions and their ancient, local knowledge - a truly authentic experience.

The vastness and purity of this landscape, combined with the untouched local culture, elegant comfort and welcoming hospitality makes for an intimate, exceptional and life-changing experience.

6 Reasons to visit Saruni Rhino

① First Black Rhino Tracking Experience in East Africa

Pioneering walking safari first of its kind in East Africa, providing a unique and exhilarating adventure whilst also allowing guests to actively contribute to the protection of this iconic species. Tracking black rhino on foot, accompanied by an expert Saruni guide and a highly-trained Sera Community Conservancy ranger in safety, to spot any of the 19 rhino throughout the 54,000 hectares-large sanctuary.

② First community-owned Rhino Sanctuary in Africa

Sera Community Conservancy, home to around 16,000 Samburu semi-nomadic pastoralists which form part of a sub-tribe of the Maasai, here is where essentially a sanctuary within a conservancy was formed. Highly secure and fenced, a group of black rhino were re-introduced to Sera Conservancy Rhino Sanctuary to spread and increase Kenya's black rhino population and encourage visitors to the remote and stunning part of the country with a fully community-focused ideology to encourage the sustainable benefits of conservation that Saruni so strongly believes.

③ First Black Rhino reintroduction to North Kenya

An area which for over 40 years has seen the depletion of the black rhino, until now, where one of the most advanced conservation projects has taken place and the first of its kind in Africa, whereby a group of black rhino has been successfully reintroduced in the fenced, maximum protection sanctuary offering the endangered species a chance to flourish.

④ Singing Wells

A totally unique and intimate tradition, the singing wells of Samburu remain an exclusive experience we offer our guests. Home to The Fifty Wells, 'Kisima Hamsini', a series of fifty springs where local pastoralists take their livestock to water, digging deep in the barren land filling up wells to in-turn fill up holders and troughs whilst singing a unique melody to which each Moran's herd individually heeds.

⑤ Endless untouched landscape

Located a little over 1.5 hours drive from Saruni Samburu lodge, Saruni Rhino lies in the wild, undiscovered northern frontier of Kenya in 350,000 hectares of Sera Community Conservancy. The semi-arid, untouched, striking landscape stretches further than the eye can see giving a sense of total inimitability.

⑥ Unique Wildlife & Eco-System

The Sera Community Conservancy is home to one of the most fascinating ecosystems, to which guests have the remarkable opportunity to explore with matchless experiences such as the 'Samburu Five'. The 'Samburu Five' are rare and endemic to the Samburu ecosystem. These consist of the Gerenuk, the Reticulated giraffe, the Somali ostrich, the Grevy's zebra, the Beisa oryx and an abundance of other rare species such as the leopard, the striped hyena, the Civet cat and the wonderful African wild dog not forgetting a plethora of birdlife!

Malaria prevention

Saruni Rhino is a low risk area due to low population density. Mosquito nets are still provided in each room as a precaution. It is each guest's personal decision whether to take preventative medication or not, and one should consult their personal GP if uncertain.

Tipping guideline

Tips/gratuities are welcomed with enthusiasm and gratitude. A general guideline for tipping is anywhere from US$5-10 per day per person. This amount will be equally divided between all staff with the exception of the guides. Your personal guide may be tipped directly and this is at your discretion, however a general guideline is around US$10 per day.

Electricity at the Lodge

Saruni Rhino runs on solar power, which provides electricity (220V) 24 hours a day. A generator is on stand-by for backup. Guests electronics can be charged in their rooms and in the main areas. Should you wish to use your own hairdryer, the power supply can support up to 220v for a hairdryer. We have 3-point British plugs, and recommend guests bring their own converters and universal plug adaptors.

Communication services

Wi-Fi internet connection is free and available in Swara House, the communal lounge and dining area. Mobile phone signal is available in some areas of the camp (Safaricom is best).

Samburu Climate

Altitude: 2500 ft.

Temperature: Hot days (sometimes very hot), warm nights, low humidity. Rainfall: approx 250mm per year.

Meals and cuisine

We cater for all dietary requirements and allergies as informed prior to arrival. The cuisine at Saruni is Italian-inspired and we use fresh and local ingredients, as well as special imported products. We offer communal dining hosted by our guides and managers, Due to its size, for guests staying in Family Banda 3, we offer in-room dining. Meals will be organised to suit guests' needs so there are no set times. The lodge has a daily three-course set menu. Bottled drinking water is provided in all rooms, at all meals and in all game drive vehicles. Guests also receive a personal aluminium water bottle on arrival that can be filled from various dispensers in camp.

Saruni Rhino vehicles

At Saruni Rhino we have 4x4 Land Rovers for all game drives and transfers, which are open sided for the best game viewing, each with a canvas roof for shade. Game drives are done on a shared vehicle basis. Exclusive use of the vehicle is not available at Saruni Rhino due to the intimate nature of the camp and the logistics relating to the rhino tracking sessions and activities.
